THE TERMINAL MANAGEMENT.

Important Changes to be Made in It at the Meeting in This City.

FIVE TO ONE ON FLOWER'S ELECTION.

NEW YORK BUREAU RICHMOND TIMES Oct. 31, 1891.

The Richmond Terminal meeting will be held in Richmond on December 12th, and the books close for election on November 9th.

There is no longer any doubt that important changes are about to be made in the management of this company. It was said to-day that a synlicate in which H. W. Smithers of London, Speyer & Co., Kuhn-Loeb & Co. and others are interested have agreed to take hold of the company and rehabilitate it; that President Imman should rehabilitate it; that President Imman should retire in favor of Ex. Norton, formerly president of the Louisville and Nashville railroad. The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, it is understood, is to withdraw entirely from the Richmond Terminal system and constitute an independent line. The syndicate is to relieve the company from its present financial embarrassments and has already, as stated vesterday, advanced $3,500,000 on Georgia Central securities.

WHAT ME, INMAN SAYS. In regard to this President John H. Inman says: There is no truth in the statement that Mr. Smithers or any one else has demanded or suggested my resignation or dis-

If the stockholders deem its present management or any part of it incompetent or detrimental to their interest, let them, the stockholders, make the change, especially as the annual meeting is near by. The Terminal property is too large and valuable, with too many interested stock and bondholders, to allow any man or set of men to stand in the way of its

The facts are said to be that Mr. Inman will The lacts are said to be that Mr. Innan will not go out of the board, as he and his intimate friends hold about $10,000,000 of the securities of the company. There will be several changes in the board. The system will obtain all the money it requires. A first-class railroad man will go into the board, but exactly what his position will be is undecided.

The company has arranged with Speyer & The company has arranged with Speyor or Co. for a loan for one year of $3,500,000 at six per cent., paying 22 per cent. commission, and has obtained and has arranged for a renewal of a loan of $700,000 with the Mutual Life Insurance Company without commission. METROPOLITAN MATTERS, Interesting Happenings in and About New York Yesterday.

About three weeks ago William Hodge, a hostler in Alexander Busby's stable, 322 east Thirty-eighth street, felt a severe pain in his right thigh. He examined his leg and find-ing nothing the matter with it outwardly con-cluded that the rheumatism had gotten hold of him. He kept at his work, however, until last Tuesday, when his leg became so stiff with the swelling that he was obliged to quit.

A Second avenue physician advised Hodge to go to Bellevue Hospital for treatment, and there Dr. Glison examined the leg and found an abscess forming on the upper part of the swollen member. He concluded that this was caused by some foreign substance, and Hodge was put under ether to undergo an operation. The doctor found a pin an inch long a little

When Hodge came to, Dr. Gilson showed the pin to him, remarking, "It is not a good idea, my friend, to use your leg as a pincushion." Hodge could not explain how it got there. He remembered to have felt no pain such as must have been caused did the pin enter his leg from the surface, nor was there the slightest puncture or scratch on his leg near the position or the pin. It is possi-ble that he swallowed it and that it worked its way out. Hodge will soon be able to go to work again. The pin which is bent nearly ouble, will be preserved in the hospital mu-

The National Brotherhood of Surface Railroad Men, the new organization which has arisen out of the ashes of District Assembly 226 of the Knights of Labor, concluded its labors yesterday afternoon. The following officers were appointed: President, Mortimer O'Connell of New York: Vice-President, J. H. Skinner of Lynn: Secretary-Treasurer, F. C. Lewis of Lynn: Sergeant-at-Arms A. J. Seeley of Detroit. Executive Board: W. H. Rogers of New York, John Edsall of Syracuse, Hugh Collins of Denver, Andrew Hastings of St. Louis, and Henry Carter of Milwaukee. It was learned that most of the local organizations will remain with the Knights of Labor. It was decided that ten hours are to constitute a day's work, and copies of this decision will be sent to every railroad president The National Brotherhood of Surface Railsion will be sent to every railroad president

HAS A MANIA FOR CONFESSING.

A middle aged, seedy-looking man, who gave his name as Themas R. Morrell, called on Police-Superintendent Campbell, of Breoklyn, yesterday and confessed that he had committed a burglary at the house of Mrs. Henry Sawver, at 10 Montague terrace, on August 17. He said that he entered the house through the basement window, and carried off a small silver box and a telescope. He also tied up three valuable clocks, but finding them too heavy to carry comfortably left them behind.

By referring to the robbery record the su-perintendent jound that a burglary, such as the visitor described, had been committed at the Montague terrace house, but he was inclined to question the truthfulness of his visitor's story when the latter added that he threw the silver box and telescope into the river. Morrell says that he went to Chicago directly after the robbery, and that his conscience troubled him so much that he had to come back to Brooklyn to give himself up. He used to hive with his wife at 301 Hicks street.

The superintendent thinks that about a year ago the same man called on him and confessed a crime which, it was subsequently learned, had not occurred. Morrell has been held on a charge of vagrancy, pending an in-vestigation of his history.

TO BE MRS. FRANK LESLIE AGAIN. Mrs. Frank Leslie, who recently married William C. Kingsbury Wilde, has received permission from Judge Bookstaver of the court of common pleas to reassume on November 30th the name of Frank Leslie. In her petition she says she is "twenty-one years of age and upward."

Last night Mrs. Leslie said: "I desire the prestige of my old name; and desire to reassume it partly out of respect to Mr. Leslie, and partly because of its value in my business affairs. Of course I intend to continue my present work: I wouldn't give it up for all the men in the world. But I am also thinking of publishing a Spanish illustrated weekly, and the name will be exceedingly valuable to me." MRS. BROCKWAY GETS A DIVORCE.

Judge Beach signed yesterday a decree granting a divorce to Josephine E. Brockway from Frank S. Brockway on the statutory ground. Brockway is the manager of the Hotel Creighton, at Thirty-first street and Broadway. The proceedings were held before William J. Lacev. of 39 Nassau street. Brockway offered no defense.

The parties to the action were seen last night, but neither would say anything in recent to the matter further than that the sepa-

Staunton, Va., Oct. 31.—[Special.]—After the completion of the labors of the Pharmaceutical Board of Examiners the members of the Board were shown around the city and taken to several points of interest. Chaperoned by Mr. George W. May, they visited the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institution and were shown through the grounds and buildings and the class-rooms.

The gentlemen of the board were delighted with the institution and its management. The instruction in the class-rooms in both the blind and deaf-mute departments was specially interesting to them, and elicited their highest commendation.

Before taking the 2 P. M. train for their homes the members of the board adopted the following resolution.

—There is a sharp and close fight in our sister counties, Middlesex and Mathews. The Republicans have found a man at last who comes out as an Alliance candidate in disguise to seduce Democratic voters. The Democratic standard-bearer of this county has for the past twenty-odd years given his money, time, and shiftly to the cause of money, time and ability to the cause of Democracy, and the Democrats of Middlesex and Mathews should think well before they support a Republican in discusse. I cannot believe that they will be so ungrateful.

One of the signs, 8x10 feet, was splendidly gotten up, presented a very handsome appearance, each word and letter out of some of the different goods they manufacture and handle, such as mustard, laundry blue, peppers, etc., in boxes, spices, cigars and tobaccos, corks, teas and other goods. The front sign was devoted entirely to flavoring extracts, essential oil and made in the same manner as the other sign; the words lemon, vanilla and orange were made out of the fruits. Gordan Chemical Company, for which they are sole agents, each weighing 1,350 pounds. The tanks drew a great deal of attention, as glycerine is usually shipped in cans and barrels. Their flavoring extracts are sold in all the principal cities.

To Subscribers Richmond Telephone Exchange.

Our Exchange service was resumed to-day at noon with four of the six sections of switch-board and eight of our tweive operators. It is manifestly impossible for eight opera-tors to handle satisfactorily the volume of business that has heretofore required the services of twelve operators, and it is advisable that our subscribers, in their own interests, should use their telephones as sparingly as possible, and only for their own business.

It is hoped that the two remaining sections of the switchboard can be repaired and the remaining operators installed by the middle of next week, when the service will again become normal.

NEWPORTNEWS AND WHYTHE PLACE IS SO WELL KNOWN.

What the Visitor Sees and What He Has to Say About It_Its Destined Growth.

Newport News. October 30.—I saw recently in a letter from this place the remark that Newport News was the best advertised point in the South. That is no doubt a fact, but not altogether so because the city has been in the South. That is no doubt a fact, but not altogether so because the city has been so much written about in newspapers. Nearly every one who visits the place becomes an advertising medium for it. The stranger who runs into Newport News on his way to Old Point and only catches a glimpse of the city is astonished when told that it is only a decade old. And if perchance he spends a day here as hundreds do who are on excursions he is incredulous until he makes a study of the situation. The great dry-dock, the shippyards and their immense capacity and magnificent machinery, not surpassed in the Government yards, the elevator, the tremendous piers jutting out into the roads, the miles of side track, the general bustle, activity and stir of the people are things that he cannot reconcile at first with a statement that ten years ago all about him was farming land.

AN OLD FOUNDATION.

AN OLD FOUNDATION. He sees electric cars, electric lights, hand He sees electric cars, electric lights, hand-some stores, beautiful private residences and evidences of solidity that would seem to in-dicate an old foundation, yet he is not long in appreciating the situation when it is ex-plained to him. He goes away to tell his triends that here is one of the grandest har-bors in the country; that it is surrounded by a beautiful and fertile country; that the cli-mate is delightful and healthy; that the city has a rich back country to draw from in the mate is delightful and healthy; that the city has a rich back country to draw from in the way of market supplies, which aids in supporting a large retail trade. He informs them that it is the terminus of one of the great systems of railroads of the country, which cuts through two States and has forwarding arrangements to the great Northwest, the full of Mexico and the Pacific slope; that this system pierces one of the most extensive coal-regions on the continent, and that it is the shortest highway between the great Western markets and deep water. Western markets and deep water.

ANOTHER SYSTEM TO COME, He also tells his friends that it is inevitable that another great trunk line must come to Newport News: that the city is already one of Newport News: that the city is already one of the greatest coaling stations on the Atlantic coast, and that its present business in this di-rection is only a beginning. He points out to them that the barbor is never blocked with ice, and that it affords safe moorings in the most violent gales. He sees and they see from this why shrewd, clear-headed capitalists have invested their money herefand have an abiding faith in the future of Newport News as a place of business and in which to do business and in which to do business and in which to live. They understand that the growth of population of the place is a certainty and that those who remain have now as certain of resonantial returns. here now are certain of remunerative returns. CROWDING THE RESIDENCES.

Already the business portion of Newport News is beginning to crowd the residences, and there could be no surer indication than this of a steady increase in values here at no distant day. The business area of Newport News is not a bit too large for the demands News is not a bit too large for the demands of the present population, and with the destined multiplication caused by the increase of hands in industries now in operation, and others that are assured, the business section must inevitably around out portions of the residential section and thus in time take in new territory. Among the wise that will be dest to be taken in its the plats that will be first to be taken in is the beautiful one of the Newport News Company, of which Mr. Lewis H. Blair is president, with its elevated situation and inviting dent with its elevated situation and inviting building sites. This property is on the direct road of Newport News development and progress. To assert that Newport News will grow, as every one does who visitathe place, is to assert that this company's holdings must be built over. The company are now offering their that the stress which considering the Mr. E. E. Williams as their candidate to represent this county in the Legislature. The colored element largely predominated in the meeting.

The meeting was addressed in an animated speech by Mr. M. C. Cardozo, a prominent Alliance man of this place, urging a nomination by the Alliance.

The colored element largely predominated in the value of property here, where values have ruled steady all during the financial depression, are very low. When we consider these prices with reference to the future, either in the light of holding the lots for advance or building on them to rent, the opportunity for securing very large returns appears a most exceptionally promising one.

cared for and is altogether very desirable in every respect. It contains about eleven rooms, besides ample servants' accommodations, and it can be seen at any reasonable hour by applying on the premises. If desired more ground on the west can be had at a reasonable price.

Terms: One fourth cash and the residue at one, two and three years for notes with interest semi-annually, or more than one-fourth in cash, or all cash at the option of the purchase, and the title to be retained until all the purchase money shall have been paid.

TO BE SOLD BY COMMISSIONER OF CHANCERY COURT.

By virtue of a decree of the Richmond Chan-cery Court in the cause of Lawrence B. Morriss against Garland Morriss and others, entered June 2, 1891, I will, on THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1891, at 40 clock F. M., on the premises, proceed to sell by public auction to the highest bidder, the following property:

First. The old MORRISS HOMESTEAD, fronting on Park and Grove avenues and Harrison street. This property may be sold as a whole or in lots fronting in Park avenue, thus insuring protection to the fronts of lots on opposite side of Park avenue.

Second. TEN 100 LOTS fronting on north side of Park avenue, between Harrison and boyd streets. These lots front a feet each and extend back to an alley.

This is the most desirable property now on the market and should attract the attention of parties seeking first-class investments or sites for building homes.

Trams: One-fourth cash and the balance in three equal installments at six, twelve and eighteen months for negotiable notes with 5 per cent interest and waiver of homestead exemption, and title retained until the whole purchase money is paid and conveyance ordered by the Court.

Plats of the property may be seen at the office

Court.
Plats of the property may be seen at the office of E. B. Chaffin & Co., who will be glad to give any information in regard to the lots.
